“ My dear friend, Janis Before, husbands, before kids we were two young girls full of dreams away from home for the first time at college. Every day there was some new gossip or shared top ramen. And how can I forget our days as card takers at Holmes Dining Hall?! We knew everyone and everyone knew us (at least the students who ate at the dining hall). Janice Roy and Janis Rogers. "One Janis is as good as the other"! We were married a month apart, our first born are a month apart. Through the years we stayed in touch thanks to your wonderful Christmas letters each with a personal note attached. Culminating over breakfast, golf and beer in Leavenworth last year and plans to repeat this summer. I miss you but we will reunite someday, I hope. I know you are Heaven. Me not so sure but trying to be good. God Bless your family, no one could love them more than you.

“ My dearest friend, heaven only knows how much we have shared. You were always very thankful for the life Brett gave you and your girls. I will watch over them as I know you would want me too. You will forever have a piece of my heart. I love you Janis

“ As young mothers Janis and I began a journey together. I am saddened that this earthly part is finished but I look forward to the Heavenly journey. As room mothers, dance Moms, sports Moms and academic supporters of our daughters we would share the joys and frustrations of these roles. There is no doubt of the intense love Janis felt for her family.

Kacey and Allison - you have strengths that you have inherited from your Mom - she is forever with you!

Brett - you and Janis were such caring and supportive parents, I know you will continue to carry that torch.

Thank the good Lord for all of those photos Janis insisted on taking - they will provide such a loving tribute and keeper of memories for your family. The annual Christmas photo and letter were treasures.

We share in your sorrow as we have lost a friend. We are thankful for the smiles and kind words Janis shared. We hold you all in our hearts as you recover from this shock. Please know you are in our prayers and as good neighbors we are available to help with anything you may need.

“ There is no way to say how much everyone will miss Janis, especially her family. She was definitely a fun loving person with a zest for life. She was SO proud of her daughters and attended every event in which they participated. Praying for her family and sending love and caring. She will be greatly missed.
