“ Shannon was the kind of man that a guy could look up to you and strive to be like at any age whether you are young or old he had more character and heart than anybody I can think of. I never heard him say anything bad about anyone, even in situations where people had attitude and grudges towards others, he handled them with extreme charisma. He is one of the people you say "how could this happen to him ?" As a Christian I believe God has a plan for everybody and I think that Shannon just did a really good job and got all his stuff done and the Lord of them home. It sucks for everybody else but that's the only thing I can think is that he did a really good job and the Lord Kollman home and said "Well done good and faithful servant." I hope his family can find some condolence in this, it's still a tragic loss.

“ So many memories. Shannon is a brother, a confidant, a boss, and a friend! He and I hired into Alcoa together 19 years ago. We, along with another friend were the young gun electricians. Big trucks and dirt bikes!! Working shifts together, riding bikes, spending lots of time at the Beslanowitch house and then Shannon and Dawn's. As others have said, Shannon was always there to help. However you needed it. With a smile on and a warm greeting always. The last few years he had a crew of men(young and old) that worked for him. I have never heard a negative thing from anyone about him. He loved his guys!
He loved his family. Dawn, the kids, the grandkids, and the dogs. :) He had gone to work at CBHP and really was enjoying it when I would talk to him, even the commute because he could ride! The world lost a world class man!
Dawn and family his Alcoa family is always here to help with anything you need, just as he was to all of us!! Just let us know. I will always miss him. I will always remember. Ride on my brother!

“ I worked with Shannon at Columbia Basin Hydropower. I remember when he came in for his interview and afterwards, everyone who had sat in on it knew that he was the right choice. His work ethic proved itself time and again. He never complained, even when getting stuck with dirty jobs such as cleaning the Summer Falls' rotors. He was the kind of guy where every day was the best day of his life. He was always in a good mood and it made everyone who worked around him that much more positive. It was impossible not to like Shannon. The company will be a darker place without him.

“ I worked with Shannon at CBHP and found Shannon to be a good worker with a great attitude towards his job and coworkers.
We already miss him here.
We could tell Shannon loved his family and spoke about the fun times he had with them on vacations and weekend fun stuff they would do together.
Our thoughts and prayers are with his family and friends.

“ I worked with Shannon at Summer Falls and Main Canal Power Plants Columbia Basin Hydro Power. I have only known Shannon since he came to work at CBHP. He was always upbeat and cheerful somewhat quite and reserved. Shannon would always greet me or anyone for that matter, with a cheerful "Good Morning" or "How's it going". I saw him as a good man, hard working, reliable and dedicated. He treated his coworkers with kindness and respect. We were both Motorcycle enthusiasts and ride whenever possible and although his accident was tragic I know he was doing what he love to do, what all "Bikers" love to do, ride free. That's all we can do in this life. Whether rock climbing, kayaking, skydiving, bike riding or what have you, we do what makes us happy, what brings joy to living. Shannon was doing what he felt he had to do to make a better life for him and for his loved ones. That's how I came to know him working at CBHP. He will be sorely missed by all at CBHP and I for one have lost a "Biker Bother". Rest in Peace my friend. I'll keep the wheels turning and pipe burning!

“ I worked with Shannon at Alcoa for a number of years. I echo many of the comments from his other friends. It was always a pleasure and relief to learn Shannon was going to work on my project or team because of his positive can-do attitude, talents, drive to overcome obstacles, and never complained. “ I worked at ALCOA with Shannon. He always had smile and a good nature about him. I'll never forget him describing a situation "...yeah we were left an unwiped a today, were trying to clean it up..." on the plant radio. Wasn't many people not laughing that day.

“ What can you say about Shannon that has not been already said. He was a great man and is missed by all who had the pleasure of meeting him. He was a kind of guy that when he walked into a room, his smile would make everyone happy. From what I knew of him, his life was a testament of his character. He loved his wife and family, and you could not help but love this man. You are gone but never will be forgotten my friend. I wish Blessing on you and your family.
