“ Mr Graham knew me from 4th grade when I had a desk next to his son, Steve when Steve was Stevie. I was in Boy Scouts with Tommy and Stevie, Mr Graham was assistant scoutmaster. Almost every Sunday I was at the red apple road house my extended family. I took his high school machine shop course. Being a troubled teen I didn't do all that well but acquired skills that helped me survive and flourish later in life. More importantly he acted in my behalf against forces that would cause me to drop out of school and I was able to achieve my father's only dream for me and that was getting my high school diploma. He visited me at my shop in Hollywood and got to see first hand the internals of a motion picture camera and my role inhaling it happen. If nothing else so momenta as that and having Mr Graham in my home at my dinner table for dinner had happened for the rest of life that would have been enough. We kept in touch throughout the years and my brother Dennis and I visited him only a few years ago. He was my pilot, mentor and protector without him my life would have had a very different outcome. Thank you for everything Mr Graham.

“ Bruce was a grand man! He was a friend of my husbands and was always an example of a kind and thoughtful man for our whole family. He always made sure that our 2 little girls had a "real" pumpkin that he grew in his marveolus garden. An amazing person who lived well by example...Meg Bush

“ Bruce was a kind gentle man and a man without guile. I will always remember his effort to help my 14 year old son line up his mechanical ambitions with a friend of his. This effort provided me with support for something I was not able to give to my son. I'm sure Bruce felt it a minor effort but he went the extra mile and it meant a lot to me.

For several years of his life I visited Bruce regularly and he was always welcoming and kind. I was very impressed with his knowledge of the world around him and his motivation to do and not be idle. He was a great example to me and I will always remember him with fondness.

I offer my condolences to you his family, your father was a very good man.
