“ Uncle Dennis you will be missed by all, as I shared some memories on aunt Lori’s page thinking your memories page as well❤️ I will always remember the 2 of you as 1, I shared memories with not only the 2 of you but also with your 2 very strong amazing children. It’s truly hard to even believe you are in the golden doors of Heaven, with that being said I will always remember your house in east Wenatchee down to the set up and furniture, I remember I evening I was there my big hair and all, and talked Cassie into letting me braid all her hair in tiny braids, as we laughed, these memories are most important. If I had one big memory of you uncle Dennis it would be “Hot Rod Dennis” I say that because I remember your car lot I would visit with my Dad (dan harris) you always had the hottest car along with Lori., well it must run in the family my dad is all about the cars and yep lam to, late hours I spend customizing my own cars (like I own a body shop...lol) love you uncle Dennis RIP until we meet again, God has welcomed you and your wife of 40 years (Lori Harris) into the gates of Heaven together. ❤️ Love you both niece Heidi and family 💕

“ This makes me sad. I wish I could rewind the clock of life. I've missed all the family ties after entering the Air Force and moving away. I can remember having loads of fun at the Harris house with all my cousins. Dennis was not too far from my age. Rest in peace my cousin. Prayers to the Harris family and their families. May God help to heal your pain. Mary, I'm going to give you a double (Prayer).

“ I was so sad to hear about Dennis. He spent many weekends at our house helping his brother Jack work on cars. On their down time he and Jack would sit and tell stories of their childhood and they would laugh hysterically as they were remembering. Dennis was a very kind soul and fun to be around! He was a bit scary at first for me but soon I got to know him and realized how much he loved life. He would talk about his kids and wife and he had a gleam in his eye while doing so. After Jack passed he would just show up at the door to say hello. I will miss him! Rest in peace Dennis! Love to all the family! Cindy Harris
