My sweet Glenny Girl. The memories are endless, the laughter, the crying, it didn't matter what we were doing or where, it was always too much fun.

Thank you for some of the best times in my life. Fly free from all the pain and sickness, I will one day see you on the other side.

RIP Glenda, you made my life better just by being in it.

for my beloved friend. i learned on my own last night by reading wenatachee obits. that my dear precious friend glenda mayo had died. her name is still on my facebook. she is still listed on my page. i will never remove her off. she sent photos to me of herself and my husband's biological dad. charles craigmiles whom she had dated when she was in 30s or so. she gave us so much in pictures she sent us. and stories of charles craigmiles. she became my dear friend. i met her in 2011 or 2012. she answered a ad i had on ancestry.com. in search of charles. she said she was a former close friend of charles's and she ask which of the two sons of charles i had married. i said james. she said oh that is the right one the right son the right answer the one he loved the most his youngest child. my husband called glenda mom...." and when i told him today that glenda had passed away. he cried and said oh mom"" see his real mom died at 50. in 1998. glenda told me james could have been her step son. so i know she loved james's daddy charles. she helped me find charles thru research we called nursing homes ect. in kingman arizona. i live in indiana. but glenda did the calling and found charles in a nursing home. he lived 2-3 weeks after we found him. it was closure for my husband who had searched for his dad. since loosing track of him in 2001. glenda got to come to where i lived in indiana clarksville. her best friend's parents lived here in their 90s. they stayed only 2 roads away from my apartment and we never got to meet face to face. me and glenda talked on the phone many times. and on facebook to one another. i talked on the phone to her for 2 hrs. once. she sent photos of herself and herself and charles craigmiles and sent us photos of charles. she had kept for years. she sent them a year ago to me. and iam thankful to god for allowing me to meet such a wonderful lady and friend and someone who could tell me about my husband's dad whom i never got to meet. and she told us memories she had of him. she felt as though she was a relative to me and to my husband james. we loved her dearly and always and forever will. love james and melissa rexroat craigmiles in clarksville indiana. (orig. from russell springs kentucky).

“ my condolences to the family her sons and daughter in laws and grandkids. i loved glenda. my husband called her his 2nd mom. she said she could have been his step mom. she had dated my father in law who is now in heaven since 2012. charles william craigmiles. i was searching for him 2-3 months before he died. glenda found my ad on ancestry.com wrote me sent her phone number i called her we talked for hours. she said which son of charles are you married to. i said james she said right answer!!. she filled me in on the life of charles my father in law after his 1981 divorce from my husband's mom. she told us things we needed to know about him. it helped my husband find closure. she sent photos of charles and glenda when they dated back int he 1980s or so. she also= worried about me and my husband james because,. we live in a hotel. she ask me to keep her posted on our search for a new home. i really loved glenda. i didn't know she had passed away. I sent her a facebook chat. she never answered me. that was unusual for her not to respond so i looked up her town wenahatee washington obits. and there was her obituary . i lost my mother gladys in2015 glenda helped thru my loss. she was always there for me. and in2013 or 2012 she came to clarksville indiana where i lived at. she stayed just 2 roads from my home but due to circumstances we never got to see each other. forever she will be truly loved beloved cherished and missed and in my heart forever love melissa and james rexroat craigmiles

iam so saddened and shocked by my dear friend passing away we have been close friends since 2011 when we met on ancestry.com she use to date my late father in law charles craigmiles. she sent me pictures of him and him and her. taken back in the 1980s. my husband who had no pictures of his biological dad. got to see charles again in pictures that precious glenda sent me. she was my good friend on facebook. we talked often. and i am so sad and broken over her. my husband called her his 2nd mom. since she knew his dad so well. his parents divorced when he was 4 yrs old. so glenda filled us both in on life after the divorced what happened to charles. i will never forget glenda for giving me memorys and love and telling me of the father in law i never got to meet. i loved glenda i could really talk to her. she was like a mother figure. iam so so terribly saddened forever loved beloved cherished dearly. love you glenda melissa and james rexroat-craigmiles in clarksville indiana
