“ Glenn and my brother Bob are best friends since the 70's. Glenn was always one of my favorite friends of my brother, though they were older than me. Even after he moved away, it seems that when visiting family in other states there was a good chance of seeing him at the home of someone in the family.

When I was very young, around ten, Glenn and my brother-in-law said we were going to the beach. We went to the beach alright, a nude beach in Washington. I was horrified and they both made fun of me for building a sand castle and ignoring the naked people.
