“ Dear Hearts--I was so sorry to learn of Homer's passing. My memories of him and Jackie go back many years. They were highly respected by all of us Pateros and Methow Valley residents. Jackie was a wonderful musician and band/choir conductor, drawing the best out of us who were privileged to be her students. She and Homer were highly respected by all who knew them. Homer was a dedicated orchardist, giving time and talent to that demanding profession. I didn't know until his later years what an avid reader he was. Whenever I visited him here in Wenatchee, I'd find him sitting in a comfortable chair, reading a book. He enjoyed chatting about plot and other aspects of what he was reading. His passing concludes an earthly life well lived. I have to smile as I envision both of them, Jackie directing a choir of angels and Homer sitting on a cloud reading a book. Fine people! I know each of you is proud of them.

My condolences, love, and best wishes to each of you and your families.
