“ When I would see Jack at church, he was always friendly.

“ Well. I guess I didn't read all the directions. One fond memory is "stealing" apples from the orchard at the bottom on the hill. The owner had said they could have as many apples as they wanted, as long as they weren't wasted. It sure was fun though to go down at night and pretend we were stealing the apples.

A few years ago, my sister Goldie and I spent a few days in Leavenworth. Jack drove over from East Wenatchee every day to shop, eat, and visit with us. His visits just made out trip that much more enjoyable.

“ Tigerdaddy and I were fighting about something in the car. Can't remember what it was, but the fight ended with me sulking in the back seat, sitting next to my sister, Tammy. After a few moments, he turned to the back and asked, "Sandy, are you all right?" Without a moment's hesitation Tammy piped up with, "No, she's half left!" Next thing we were all laughing, and whatever the argument was, long forgotten.

Love you, Tigerdaddy! I know you are half left too.
