“ I had just written a thank you to Jacquie for the flowers and hand written note she had sent to my mother's memorial service November 22. One week later, I read about her memorial. I think this speaks to how thoughtful and big her heart was.

We were "across the street neighbors" for those early grade school years and played together daily. I have great memories of lengthy skits played out as Clark Kent's secretary or assistant to Sgt. Joe Friday and his Dragnet L.A. police force with Jacquie directing and sometimes playing a minor role. She was generous and kind, but more than that, very creative and resourceful.

We moved after 2nd grade, so as our paths crossed again in high school, I was able to observe these qualities continued to serve her well in the many activities she was involved. We would reminisce, at times, about living on Whitebirch Place.

Recently Jacquie and my mom shared some times in their assisted living residence. Visiting with her, it was obvious she participated in life at this time with the same resourcefulness.

Jacquie will be missed.

“ Jacquie lived her life to the fullest, with many challenges, most of will never know. She loved animals, esp her cat who was a great companion. She learned to speak up for herself and be strong in the face of great difficulties. I will miss you Jacquie. Rest in peace..

“ Jacquie and her mom were some of the friendliest people we ever have met. They always exhibited pure joy when we met them.
