“ John was a good neighbor and friend to my two young sons. He'd often hang out with my three year old Asher doing "man" stuff in John's garage. They would saw peices of wood and check out John's guns and knives, and Asher loved every second of it. Asher called him his "buddy". My youngest, Jayce, even as a little baby would reach for John wanting him to hold him. John would always ablige and make Jayce feel payed attention to. " John" was one of his first words we could clearly understand. I'll have fond memories of looking out my front door to find my boys hanging with him at the front gate. John will be missed by all of his neighbors and also by the men and women he worked along side in the electrical field, my sister being one. Rest in peace our friend. You are missed.
