“ Dear Andy, Michaelanne, William, Carmen, Jacqueline, and Clay, I first met Kari more than thirty years ago when she began her teaching career at Mead Junior High School in Mead, Washington. I was assigned as her mentor teacher, which was a happy irony. From the first day she was competent, efficient, knowledgeable, professional, and incredibly amiable. She had as much to teach me as I her. We remained friends and colleagues until she moved out of this area when we lost contact, but the memory of our friendship is still with me today. She was a distinct pleasure to know and count as a friend--definitely a class act. In spite of our distance from each other these past years, I still feel the loss and the void her passing has initiated, so I can imagine how deeply her loss has affected you. You are in my heart and on my mind as you grieve her loss. My hope is that fond memories will sustain you as you adjust to life without her.

Sincerely,
Paddy Inman
