

Marvin Radach

January 16, 1935 - June 1, 2025

Marvin Radach, 90, of Cashmere, passed away on June 1, 2025 at Maryhill Cottage in East Wenatchee.

Born on January 16, 1935 in Alfred, North Dakota; Marvin was the son of John and Natalia (Tiede) Radach. The family moved to Cashmere that same year. Some time later, Marvin moved in with his brother Slim and sister-in-law Lorraine.

After graduating from Cashmere high school in 1953, he began working for Peshastin Lumber Company, where he worked many jobs within the mill until it closed in 1990. In 1956, he lived in Leavenworth and after marrying Geri Finchum, his son Scott was born. In 1963, Marvin and his family moved back to his family home, purchasing his father's house, where his second son Jeff was born. Marvin continued to work the farm, growing alfalfa and cattle. He spent his days enjoying many outdoor activities, including snowmobiling and fishing.

Marvin is survived by his adopted daughter, Ruth Montoya, and his two sons Scott (Ginger) of Amarillo, TX and Jeff (Tara) of Cashmere, WA. He is also survived by his sister, Alva Case of Vancouver, WA; 3 grandsons, Chris (Denise), Robert (Jen), Johnny (Cassie); a granddaughter Erica; and 3 great grandsons.

A Funeral Service will be held on Friday, June 6 at 11 am at Jones and Jones - Betts Funeral Home in Wenatchee, WA. There will be a graveside service to follow at Cashmere City Cemetery.
