“ Uncle Norman would come visit us on occasion when I was a young child. He was always open for an interesting conversation. My dad, Dee Strausbaugh would tell me stories about him when we got out the photo album. Other than that I had not seen him in over 25 years and wish I could have known him a bit better now that I am an adult.

“ I worked at River West when Norman was a resident there. I soon discovered he belonged to the brotherhood of Marines and my husband was pleased to come visit him. I was not aware that he had any family, and there were some who especially befriended him at RW.

My husband was proud to honor Marine Corp. Gunner, Mr Norman Strausbaugh, at his graveside service on Tuesday.
