“ My sincere condolences to Pat's family that I know as the Eastmans. My heart goes out to all of you but especially to David whom I was closest to. My memories go to the house on Saddlerock where they lived at the time, not far from my childhood home. David and I "dated" for a while in our high school years but then time took us in different directions. Years later when I was working at a bank, who should walk in but Pat. She recognized me right away and I her. We chatted a bit and then she left. I looked forward to seeing her smile again not knowing if I would. A few weeks later she came in again and again we chatted. This time she spoke of David and asked me for my card. "I'm going to get this to David!" She said, with a twinkle in her eye. "You two should get together and catch up!" and I knew, from the determination in her voice, she would make it happen. Pat was like that from my perspective. She had a smile that could light up the room, determination that wouldn't quit, and with 7 children and all those grand kids, must have had patience of a saint. She is smiling down on all of you with pride in her heart. My deepest sympathy to the Eastman Clan!

Sincerely,
Loni (Roy) (McFadden) Nealy
