“ Let me tell you about the first time I met Ralph, I was dating Gary and in a hurry to get to Waterville one afternoon and might have been speeding on Highway 2 a little. I think I was just past Hartline and I got behind a "slower than me" car and passed it. Then that car tailed me for awhile and passed me back. It was a fun little game all the way to Waterville. He would slow down to the speed limit so of course I had to pass him again. Then he would pass me again. I was in the lead when we got to Waterville. I pulled into the post office figuring he would keep on going and I wouldn't ever see him again. NOPE! He followed me right to the post office, got out of his car, commented on my driving, shook my hand, and introduced himself. I was a little embarrassed. Little did I know that I would see him at the post office quite frequently and he gave me a hard time EVERY SINGLE TIME I saw him. I'm gonna miss that! He was a great man :)
