“ I was married to Roger for 4 years. He was a painter by trade. In his off time he had taught himself to play the guitar & was also a great singer.

It is my wish that Roger will Rest In Peace!

Diana can you tell me how his brother is? And I don't recall what Rogers middle name is. Thank you for the good picture of him. I didn't take one of him last year. Diana

I just found out Roger passed away today April 23rd, 2018 We met in 1974 and I had fun managing his band for a couple years and I told him the reason we stayed close friends was because we didn't marry. He wanted to be the best guitar player and singer and he was proud of his accomplishments. I last saw him last summer. He talked a lot about his wife Karen and his other wives but we stayed friends through his marriages. He talked about his daughter Diana and his musical friends, and his brother. So I'm so sorry I feel like another part of my life is gone. He was a interesting person to know. He sang at my graduation and I danced to his music. The band practiced in my home and named my cat Scamp because he would walk over and around the guys playing. He got my older son a job painting and got him started in that field of work. So I was planning another trip over to see him, but now I will just miss him. Diana Talbott of Seattle
