“ Barb and I along with a bunch of teenagers had the opportunity to hike into the cascades. I often wish I had known her better and, have had the many hiking experiences she had taken. Barb was very thoughtful and insightful, as well as very kind to my daughter who she spoke very well of. I have no doubt she will be greatly missed by many family and friends.

“ I had the great honor of meeting Ron at their home in Wenatchee where we shared books, I would say 'books we had in common', but I am nowhere near the prolific reader that Ron was. Ron took me on a tour of his collection and was a kind and fascinating man, and a good listener. I had mentioned a book I had once enjoyed about Adam Smith the economist. A few weeks later I received 'said' book in the mail. I only spoke with him that one time, but it was clear he was a good and valuable man who will be missed by those who knew him and of course his children.

“Ron and Barbara were dear friends of ours from the time I started working with Barbara at the Health District in Ephrata 1976. Ron’s sense of humor was always fun and we all shared a love of books. He never missed a book sale to add to his huge selection of eclectic books. We’ll miss both of them.”
