

Ruby Jewell Brown

August 24, 1930 - December 11, 2014

Ruby Jewell Brown passed away on Thursday, December 11, 2014. She lost her battle with Progressive Supranuclear Palsy after a 10 year struggle with this devastating disease. Ruby was born in Woodson, Arkansas to David H and Leona (Freeman) Eagle on August 24, 1930. She spent her early years in Arkansas where she worked in a General Store and sang on the radio. Ruby met her future husband, Virgil Roy Brown when he came into the store where she worked looking for bandages for his injured hand. Ruby bandaged the hand and they were later married in Leavenworth, WA on October 4, 1947. They made their home in Leavenworth, Washington where they had their two daughters. Ruby was a homemaker and an active member of the Wenatchee First Assembly of God Church volunteering many hours to church activities. Ruby loved music she taught herself to play the piano and enjoyed singing. She loved dogs and enjoyed having them around the house; her favorite was "Al" her Afghan Hound. In their retirement years, Ruby and Virgil spent many years traveling around the United States with their RV. They enjoyed snow birding and did not miss the cold winters. Ruby had a wide circle of girlfriends and they spent many hours together enjoying each other's company and playing games.

Ruby had two siblings an older sister, Margaret E. King who preceded her in death and a younger brother, William "Bill" H. Eagle of Wenatchee. Ruby is survived by her husband, Virgil of Wenatchee; her two daughters, Diane (Jay)

Young and Elaine (Mike) Brown of Wenatchee; two grandchildren, Nathan (Ashley) Young of Boston and Lisa (Justin) Kissel of East Wenatchee; and two great grandchildren, Kameron and Kyra Kissel of East Wenatchee.

The family would like to thank Blossom Valley Assisted Living, Blossom Creek Memory Care, The Confluence Health Hospice Team, Dr. Crabtree and Mary Ann for their compassionate care.

Funeral Service will be held at 1:00 p.m. on Monday, December 15, 2014 at Wenatchee First Assembly of God Church with Pastor Jerry Beebe officiating. Private family graveside service will be held at Evergreen Memorial Park in East Wenatchee. Please express your thoughts and memories on the online guest book at jonesjonesbetts.com.
