“ Rudy was a funny man, he had his cranky moments like us all, but he also was caring and weak as well. He loved all the dogs in the neighborhood keeping dog treats next to his bed for them all when they would visit him through the dog door. He loved my children and made sure we never went without..... That last moment we shared was beautiful and I just want you to know you still have one person that loves you and will always listen to your memories of Anne and you, whatever made you smile. I hope the two of you are together finally, because I know that is where you two are meant to be..
