“ We wish our Aunt Sandy everlasting peace. She was good to us and had a big heart, we have fond memories of our time with her, Christmas eves, family dinners, long visits with Grandpa Hellman and Sandy, to name a few. She left too soon. May she feel the arms of Grandma and Grandpa Hellman around her. She was LOVED by all of her family, near and far. In Loving Memory!

“ It faces us all. It can happen in a flash or drag out for years. Death! A rather scary and unpleasant thought to most of us. I tend to put those thoughts away in a box and keep it hidden. Thinking only that dying is for the old or the less fortunate. But reality is that death is part of all of us whether we like it or not. Today, tomorrow or years down the road it will become reality. Writing in ones obituary is always difficult. How do you fit ones whole life in such few words and make them feel worthy? And if there are only few words does that mean ones life was meaningless. I think not. My aunt Sandy has gone to be with my Grandpa and Grandma in heaven. Its not easy thinking she's gone forever, as is anything that's permanent that you truly cared for. Sandy my not have a long list of huge accomplishments that can be written for all to see on paper. Her accomplishments were her kindness, her laughter and gentleness and that was important to me growing up. It left a image that will always be fondly remembered. You will always be in my heart and not forgotten Sandy. You will be missed!
