“ *My condolences on the loss of your son. The pain of losing a loved one can be overwhelming, especially a young person. Our heavenly Father promises us that very soon he will 'swallow up death forever, and wipe the tears from all faces' Isaiah 25:8. What a wonderful future hope that is. “ I met Sean in 2008 and worked with him for about 3 years. He was a really interesting guy and had a lot of layers to him. We shared a love of sports and video games and we could easily pass the day by talking about golf or the Seahawks or PS3. He was a great golfer by the way. A natural talent I think. I found Sean to be the most genuine and honest human being I've ever met. He was a very hard worker and always the first guy out the door to get to the job site. He never tolerated BS or "milking the job" and I always admired that about Sean.

Sean was a quiet guy in general but when he would go to Seahawks games as a season ticket holder he would get about as loud and excited as anyone. It was unreal to see this guy cheer on his team. I wish more people could have seen that side of him. And he was smart too. Always knew where to park for free in Seattle for the games. He came up with a brilliant plan to bring in soda pop bottle lids to the Seahawks games so he could order 2 beers and then put lids on them so they wouldn't spill before he had a chance to enjoy them. Brilliant!

I was very disappointed when he left the job where we worked together. I would occasionally hear from him and no matter what he said in his messages, they always made me laugh because they were vintage Sean. He had a way with words. I will definitely miss him. Bye Sean.

I spent a lot of time with Sean, growing up in Wenatchee. He was a great and loyal friend. He will be missed.
