

Terry Leon Loisel

August 30, 1944 - July 4, 2022

Terry was born in Biwabik Minnesota to Leo and Rosaline (Dora) Loisel where he lived until he was 5 years old. The family relocated to Seattle Washington and later moved to Shoreline Washington where Terry attended Shoreline High School before enlisting in the US Navy in 1962. He served in the Navy as a Combat Radar Specialist onboard the USS Kitty Hawk through 1965. Terry was the featherweight Golden Gloves boxing champion three years running during his time in the service. He finished his military career serving with the National Guard in 1978. His non-military career started as a carpenter. He went on to become a pipefitter at the Ballard shipyards and later worked with the Sears Company installing drapery which allowed his start of his own drapery business. Terry then had a long-distinguished career with the Boeing Company through 2014. He started in the machine shop, worked as a NC Programmer, Parts Planner, Corporate Finance, Tool Engineer, and ended his Boeing Career as a Machine Parts Estimator.

Terry was a devoted husband to his wife Deborah Loisel for 49 years before her passing in 2019. He was a loving father to his three children- Shannon, Stacy, and Tara. Together they lived in Woodinville, Omak, Kirkland, Bothell, Monroe, Tonasket, and their forever home in East Wenatchee. Terry loved the outdoors, especially hunting season where he spent quality time with good friends and family. He enjoyed lake and river fishing and the many family campouts floating the Yakima River. Some of his favorite past times were watching boxing and MMA fighting and doting on his fur babies. Later in life, he got back to his adolescent love for horses when he joined team penning and spent many years attending the Omak Stampede. Terry also held the men's Washington State pool championship in the mid-1970s and was part of many bowling leagues.

Terry was survived by his son and daughter-in-law, Shannon and Melody Loisel of Darrington; his daughter and son-in-law, Tara and Sean Larsen of East Wenatchee; his sister and brother-in-law, Sharon and Don Rice of Selah; his sister-in-law, Myrna Loisel of Seattle; his ten grandchildren, six great grandchildren, and many nieces and nephews. He was preceded in death by his mother and father, Leo and Rosaline (Dora) Loisel; his wife, Deborah Loisel; daughter, Stacy Mallette; brothers, Don and Doug Loisel; and sister, Jainene Holland.

“ I know it's been a few years since you've been gone but working now where you once worked lets me hope you're proud of me. I'll always remember the valueable lessons you instilled in me at a young age. I was just thinking of you and miss you
