“Chris” & his Mother moved in just down the road from us in Three Lakes about 25 years ago. He and our friend Charlie, a retired school teacher, who lived at the other end of the block, would regularly walk the neighborhood. They would stop to visit and pet the dogs. I remember being impressed with the intelligence and quick wit they both shared. It was always such a pleasure visiting with them. As the years progressed, Chris' Mother passed away and he moved closer to town.

When Charlie and his beloved Wife Brunie were involved in a critical car accident several years later, we were able to locate Chris and he was able to see his old friend a final time.

We lost track of Chris again for a while after that, then saw in the paper where he and Maxine had wed! We had to meet this incredible woman who had stolen Chris' heart, so we brought them a Valentines day card. Chris had suffered a stroke and was unable to remember me at first.

I was persistent though, and much like a bad penny, kept coming back. He did remember me finally, "the Dog Lady" he exclaimed! Close enough friend, close enough.

To Maxine and the rest of his family I have yet to meet, I extend my sincerest condolences, he was a very special man.
