

Warren R. Morgan

April 17, 1959 - May 14, 2019

Warren R. Morgan, 60, passed away unexpectedly on May 16, 2019. He was born April 17, 1959 to Rex and Laurel Morgan in Soap Lake, Washington. He grew up in Quincy, Washington, graduated from Quincy High School in 1977 and from Washington State University in 1981. He returned to Quincy after graduating from WSU, where he lived until his death.

His life as an entrepreneur began while he was still at WSU, where one of his first ventures was renting mini-fridges to college students. After graduating from WSU with a degree in horticulture, he came back to Quincy, and shortly thereafter, began working in his parent's orchard. The family orchard had been purchased in 1976 as a retirement investment, but it soon became clear that Warren was going to be a businessman. Instead of a retirement investment, the orchard eventually became one of a number of orchards that he owned and ran. In 1986 he and his father Rex were instrumental in establishing Double Diamond Fruit, which is an apple, cherry and apricot packing facility, and where he became President after his father retired from the position.

On August 21, 1999, he married Heather Simmons, and later, they had two sons, Chase (now 18) and Connor (now 16). When the boys were young they decided to establish the Quincy Valley School, which continues today. After his marriage to Heather, Warren expanded the business, to include raising cattle, growing row crops and hay, and operating a cider plant and a small vineyard.

Warren was very energetic and was strategic and analytical in making business decisions. He used that talent in serving on several boards, including those of Tree Top, CMI Orchards, the Quincy Basin Irrigation District, Mission Ridge Ski Team, and Quincy Valley School.

Warren had many hobbies that he was passionate about. His love for waterskiing inspired him to build a waterski lake in George, WA., which was quite an undertaking.

As an avid snow skier, Warren and his two boys loved their time together, skiing the slopes of Mission Ridge.

He also enjoyed his many fishing trips with friends, where he could relax from his busy schedule, laugh with his buddies, and even catch a couple fish.

In recent years, the family spent memorable time enjoying paddle boarding, and hopping on their wave runners and kayaks at their home in Idaho. A favorite activity was to hike or walk with Heather and their beloved dog, Sadie.

Warren had a gift of quick wit and sense of humor that was magnetic. You could not help but be drawn to him. He was, without intent, the life of the party.

He was a mentor to many, sharing his knowledge of his many business interests. He was extremely intelligent and quietly generous. As an organ donor, he continues to give the gift of life to several, and hope to many.

He was truly a force, a one of a kind. He leaves this world a better place because he lived. Warren impacted so many lives, and he will be missed by all who knew him.

He is survived by his wife, Heather; children, Chase and Connor; sister, Camille Morgan and her husband, John Stansell; brother, Walter Morgan and his wife, Esther, mother, Laurel Morgan; and nieces Madeleine Morgan, Amanda Panin, and Carolyn Stansell.

“ I had known Warren for several years from him coming over to the racetrack in Spokane. He was a total class act and everyone really liked him. He always had a smile on his face and always seemed very happy.
I remember last year Warren bringing a bunch of cherries and handing them out to everyone.
I can also tell you that everyone over in Spokane is devastated by what happened and that people including myself have already added whatever additional safety things they can to their cars and are reevaluating their driving to be safer.
I was probably the last person to speak with Warren before his accident and I am a changed person. I am doing everything I can to emphasize additional safety in memory and in honor of Warren.

“ In forty years of knowing Warren he was my boss, my partner, and my friend. Of these three I'll miss his friendship the most. Always loyal, sometimes hilarious, and ever willing to help. I don't expect to know another like him in this life, but I do hope to see him running heaven in the next. RIP friend, Harry “ Another good man taken far too soon! I went to school with Warren and had the pleasure of working for Warren along with his father Rex at Double Diamond many years ago. I really enjoyed working for them. Warren was a kind, gentle soul and will be greatly missed by many. While Warren has left us temporarily, I am certain that we shall meet again in heaven. RIP Warren! Jesus tells us in John 14:2 “In my Father's house are many mansions: if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you”. John 14:3 “And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also”. Laurel and family, my heart breaks for your loss. I will be lifting you up in prayer as we all await the return of our Lord and Savior.
